ACKNOWLEDGEMENT (by Sarah Zimmer)

Ms. Zimmer began by noting that May 1st to 7th was the National Week of Action for Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and that we have the privilege of existing and feeling safe, but that is not the case for many people. We need to remember our privilege and think about the people taken from their families too soon.

We would like to respectfully honour the four nations on whose land we live and learn: the Sinixt, the Ktunaxa, the Secwepemc, and the Syilx.

SPECIAL REPORTS

Begbie View Elementary School Annual Report to the Board presented by Ariel McDowell, Principal

Principal McDowell began her presentation by noting that the school community consists of 274 students and 37 full and part-time staff members. The students come from Revelstoke as well as many places across Canada and around the world. 74 students have an Individual Education Plan or a Student Learning Plan, there are approximately 30 English Language Learners and 16 students with Indigenous ancestry.

Last year's areas of focus were:

- Use quality assessment to guide collaboration and classroom instruction, professional learning.
- Enhance opportunities for purposeful learning and student agency.
- Enhance school-wide and community connections.

In determining the areas of focus, multiple staff meetings are held, staff attend the school planning day sessions, and students are asked to reflect on the results of the Middle Years Development Instrument.

The Areas of Focus for 2022-2023 were:

- Student-centered and data-informed teaching and learning
- A safe, engaging and inclusive school environment
- Work to implement the district's policy on Reconciliation, enhance opportunities for learning stories, language, people and the history of Indigenous people in the Revelstoke area.

In the first area, based on the November 2022 PM Benchmark results, staff increased their focus on literacy and by February 2023 the PM Benchmark results were 91% of students were proficient or extending in their reading proficiency. Ms. McDowell read a thank you note she received from a parent.

In the second area, Principal McDowell reviewed the four categories of ways to ensure a safe, engaging and inclusive school environment such as, sharing values of respect, careful scheduling and contingency planning, whole school activities, such as the Christmas concert, neighbourhood clean-up, and student choices in learning (i.e. Exploration days where students choose the things they will explore). Principal McDowell reviewed the Middle Years Development Instrument Data related to bullying, relationships, nutrition and sleep, and whether or not students say they like school. The Student Learning Survey trends were also reviewed. Overall, the MDI and Learning Survey results show improvements over the past few years.

The third area of focus, which is implementing the district's policy on Reconciliation, was selected after Christmas as an area of focus. The Student Learning Survey results indicated that more needed to be done in this area. Students have been learning about Indigenous Languages and stories, and Elder Randy Williams from Enderby is visiting the school monthly. This will continue to be an area of focus moving forward.

In conclusion, Principal McDowell reviewed some of the many activities that have taken place at the school throughout the past year.

The Board thanked Principal McDowell for the presentation noting the breadth of learning opportunities offered at the school.

Principal McDowell left the meeting.
